How to Make Segmented Wood Bowls | Our Pastimes

Segmented wood bowls are made from multiple blocks of wood in contrasting tones. The blocks are stacked together, turned, cut and assembled into a bowl shape. The way you layer the different tones of wood creates patterns in the finished bowl. The design process for making a segmented bowl is more complex than for making a bowl from a single block of wood, but the distinctive segmented look

Mill the Wood for the Segmented Bowl. This is my first time turning a segmented bowl on the lathe and I started the project out with a cherry 4 4 I've been wanting to use. It had some defects in it, so I decided to mill it down into thinner boards for my bowl. I setup my bandsaw for resawing then used one flat face against the bandsaw fence and the other against the table and ran the 4 4
